

I created the UI (including the selection of color palette and applying it to our frames) of our project.

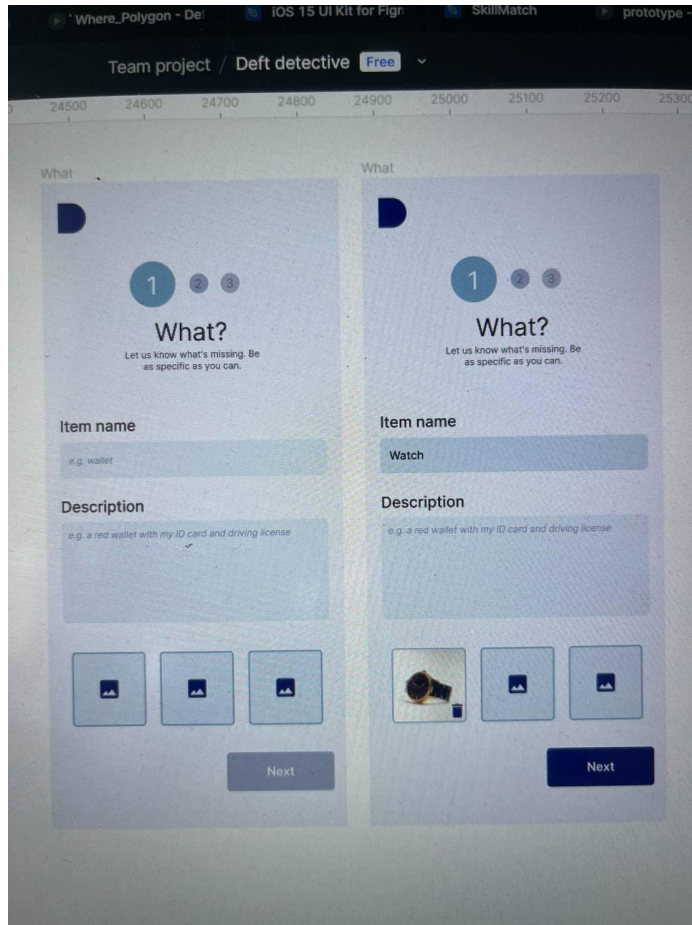

To do so, the below color palettes were nominated initially:

Blue, has been chosen as the main color of all of the options to instill the feeling of trust and security.

Then I applied the colors to our frames:

After playing with frames and palettes, and asking for other members opinion, the first option has been chose as our color palette and then I applied it on our frames.

The logo was also created after playing with font and position of the icon
